Open House And Ribbon Cutting At ASCS Office

The Lancaster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Monday dedicated its new office quarters located at 1466 Manheim Pike, Lancaster with the formal ribbon cutting ceremony at 1:30 P.M.

The ribbon cutting ceremony was performed jointly by Charles M. Long, State ASCS Committeeman, Fred G Seldomridge, Chairman of the Lancaster County ASC Committee and Richard H Witmer, County Commissioner

Virtually all phases of Lancaster county agriculture was represented. These included: M. M. Smith, Lancaster County Agriculture Agent, Richard Hoover, Supervisor Farmers Home Administration, and Harry Myers & Max Stierstorfer, representing Civil Defense

Also present were members of the County Commission, representatives of the State ASC office and other groups allied to the agricultural effort in Pennsylvania After the dedication ceremony, openhouse was held during the remainder of the day, with re-

$50,000 Expansion Plan Sales Stables Schedules

A $50,000 expansion program was announced this week by the New Holland Sales Stables, Inc.

Plans call for a new and larger hog and calf barn to be built on Fulton Street, New Holland, opposite the present cattle arena

The 100 x 200 feet building will have a seating capacity for 150 persons.

In addition a fat cattle auction will be held on Mondays as well as the regular Thursday date. Two years ago a hog and veal calf sale was started on Mondays and has been in operation since that time. There was no expansion of facilities at that time. The last expansion of facilities was six years ago.

Along with the new building, additional parking space will be made available in the area of the horse meadow.

The following sale schedule will become effectively Monday, January 6, 1964: Monday: Horse Sale - 10:00 a.m. Tack sale to follow horse sale. Hog Sale - 11:00 a.m. Beef Cattle - 1:00 p.m. Sale order - Bulls, Steers, Cows and Calves.

Wednesday: Sale of Dairy Cattle 12.30 p.m.

Thursday: Sale of Beef Cattle — 12:30 p.m. Sale order - Bulls, Steers, Cows and Calves.

J. Charles Hershey was reelected president of New Holland Sales Stables, Inc. during a recent board of directors meeting.

Other officers reelected are Clyde Stumpf, vice president; Walter B. Lehman, secretary-treasurer; John H. Gingrich, manager, and Robert H. Kling, field representative.

Lehman and Aaron Kolb were elected to one-year directorships, with John I. Fritz renamed to a five-year term.

Seedsmen Elect County Man

Chris M. Nissley, 658 Pine St., Lancaster, has been elected president of the Pennsylvania Seedman's Association.

Nissley, field representative for A. H. Hoffman Inc., Landisville, succeeds Milton Hoffman, Muncy, as head of the state association.

Elected vice president during an association meeting at Pennsylvania State University was Floyd Imes, Manheim.

Reelected secretary-treasurer was Charles C. Abbott, Philadelphia.

Named to the board of directors were Hoffman and Charles Storey, Harrisburg. Named to the board were Frederick Bell, Bedford, and John Zwaan, New Britain.

Corn Plots Are Below Average Of Last Year

Lancaster County's Extension Service replicated corn trials averaged only 90.15 bushels per acre during the drought year of 1963.

The 34 hybrids averaged nearly 35 bushels per acre less than the 125 bushels of 1962, which was also a dry year.

Assistant County Agent Arnold Lueck said this week, more trouble with aphids and smut would account for some of the difference in yields. The plots were on two farms — the farm of Raymond Brubaker, Rohrerstown Road, and the farm of Allen Risser, Leola R1.

Both plots were planted on timothy-red clover sod, and both plots were sprayed with atrizine. The Risser plot was cultivated twice, but the Brubaker plots were not cultivated. Weed control on both plots was excellent.

Brubaker manured the field heavily, worked 400 pounds of Small Farmers Can Choose from a Long Green Line, Too!

One toy tractor and eight scale-model implements convince even the smallest farmer that John Deere offers a full line of equipment for practically any kind of farming. Each toy is of tough metal construction detailed almost exactly like the real equipment: tractor, disk harrow, wagon, baler, spreader, elevator, corn picker, grain drill, and plow. It's fun to add toys until the small Long Green Line is complete. Wonderful for anytime you have youngsters on your gift list.

LANCASTER POULTRY CENTER

No Broilers Are Sold

No broilers were sold at the December 19 auction at the Lancaster Poultry Center.

Growers appeared to be resisting the depressed prices and demand for heavier chickens and other types of poultry for the holiday. Only one lot of broilers was on offer; this, a lot of 7,500 White Vantress at eight weeks and six days, consigned by D. E. Horn and Co. and Ramon Dacheux, was bid to 12.7.

At the corresponding sale last year broilers brought 14.4 to 15.5 for a sale average on 7,350 birds.

At this Thursday's sale only three lots of birds were sold. One lot of 3,000 leghorn fowl brought 8.4 and two lots of roasters brought 20 cents for the 1,300 head.

The complete sale offered only 13,000 birds in five lots and sold 4,300 birds in three lots. One lot of 4,500 broilers was withdrawn prior to the sale, and one lot of 2,000 heavy fowl was "no sale" at a bid of 12.

Following is the complete sale report with lot number, seller, grower in parenthesis, amount and breed, age in weeks and days, buyer and price.

Hess, immediate past vice president, succeeds Harold G Rohrer, 1623 Book Road, who served as president for three years Rohrer was elected a state director of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association last month.

Clyde Wivell, Columbia R1, was elected vice president, and Donald Ney, Marietta R1, was re-elected secretary treasurer.

● Delmarva

Steady Demand, Offerings Light

Live broiler prices in Delmarva continued about steady during the 24 hour period ending 10:30 Friday morning. Demand was good for the light offerings.

Ready to cook demand was slow with no plants planning to operate today. Eastern shore processors estimate slaughter for the week end at 622,000 head compared to the 839,000 head last week end.

Delmarva reported prices of 12.5 to 12.9 at farms for 713,400 head including 341,600 head offered and sold at Thursday's auction in Selbyville, Del.

The Delmarva broiler-feed ratio for the week ending Dec 13 was down three points to 2.5. Broilers averaged 12.74 per pound and mash cost the grower $100 29 per ton.

From Where We Stand . . .

Shepherds In The Fields At Night

. . . And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar-Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, every one of his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night

"And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shown round about them, and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel said unto them, fear not, for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

This beautiful story from the Gospel according to St Luke has become one of the most beloved passages in all written literature

We believe this story should hold particular significance for rural people as this joyous season comes once again.

God could have chosen anyone on earth, great or small, rich or poor, wise or foolish, learned or ignorant, to be the first to hear the good tidings of great joy, but he chose the simple shepherds to receive the divine proclamation.

Perhaps God knew, in his infinite wisdom, that many of the great and near great (by the standards of men) would have been so wrapped up in their own concerns and fears that they would not have heard the message if it had been given to them, or if they had heard, would not have believed. All too many of them would have explained it away with big, important-sounding words, if indeed, they had heard it at all.

All too many of them would have continued on in their mad rush to accumulate more of the world's goods and would not have had time to go to the place where he lay.

So too, in this day all too many are bound up in the race for wealth, power, position, status or pleasure, and have no time for more than a fleeting glance toward the manger in Bethlehem.

It remains for the simple in faith, needs, wants, and desires to make the pilgrimage each December to the manger and hear the angels saying, "Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men"

It remains for those with the faith of a little child to say with the shepherds of old, "Let us go even now unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us."

And it remains for the unsophistocated persons to do as the shepherds of old when they "Made known abroad the saying which was made known to them concerning the child."

But the angel said the message was to be for all people. The Christ child came not only to the shepherds, but to the wise men and kings — to beggars and emperors. The story of Christmas is not only for shepherds but for all the people — all over the world — whoever and wherever they may be.

May we wish for you and your loved ones that peace and good will of which the angel spoke, for if you have not this, all the material gifts you receive will be worthless than last year's tinsel. But if you have that peace and joy, "all these others will be added unto you."

At least that's how it looks from where we stand.

How Do You Rate — "We regard a man who takes nointerest in public affairs, not as harmless, but as . . . useless . . ."This is what the philosopher Thucydides of Athens said in 431 B.C. — still is true today, too.

Milk for Mi'lady — Milk hairdos, sporadically advocated by various beauty parlors, are now being advertised nationally by "Milk Wave Lilt." We know there was a way to use up the surplus.

Household Hint — When everything else fails read the instructions.

To Make Men Free

Lesson for December 22, 1963

Bible Material: Luke 2:1-20; Galatians 3 through 4.
Devotional Reading: Luke 1:58-69.

A QUESTION that can be asked about every baby, but never answered, is: "Why was this baby born?"—meaning by "Why?" not the circumstances under which his parents met, his ancestors and so on, but rather: "What is going to be the main purpose in life for this infant? For what will he be remembered?" No one can answer that. The baby's mother knows, or thinks she knows; but how often mothers have been disappointed!

Dr. Foreman

The Baby Jesus had a God-given reason for being born. His mother had high hopes of him, too. She was sure he was born to be King. She was disappointed, but not as most mothers are. For instead of failing to come up to the height of her hopes, he grew far beyond them. He who—Mary sang in her heart—was to be King of Israel would be more, much more. He would be King of mankind. His very name (in Hebrew) means one who sets men free.

Free from law

The strange and wonderful thing about Jesus is that he is a person who though he died is not separated from us by his death. He can not only be remembered, He can be known. Those who do know Him, know from their own experience that He does set men free. A man begins to be a heart-Christian indeed when he goes beyond saying, Christ sets men free, to saying Christ has set ME free. Free from what? First of all, He set us free from the law. That sounds a little strange, doesn't it? We tend to regard lawless people as dangerous. What does this mean, to be saved from the law? What law? Well, Paul wrote the letter to the Galatians on that one point mostly. He got quite excited over it. What Paul was driving at was this: All his life he had been a Pharisee, one of those proud people who were most proud of the way they kept the law of Moses which they took to be the very laws of God. But what bothered Paul was this: He knew God would be satisfied with nothing less than perfection, and he was sadly aware, as many Pharisees were not, how far short the best of men come to wholly pleasing God. So Paul tried and tried to be good, to follow the law to the letter. But the law became a kind of terrible pursuing monster to this man, threatening him with the thousand and one times he had forgotten or not done this or that.

Free from sin

Some people have thought that "freedom" means absolute freedom to do anything at all, to be as free to do any one of a million things as any other one. That is not it (and if you think about it, you don't want yourself or any one to be "free" like that). The freedom Christ was born to bring is freedom not only from the law as a slave-driver, but free from sin itself. Free from its power, its frightening power, free from its corruption, its weakening poison. Voices from the darkness that rims the life of man cry, "What you are, you must be; what you are and do is written in your blood. Sin you must, for time and circumstance hold you in chains" Against these dark voices comes the challenge of Christ: "The truth shall set you free."

Free from fear

Christ was born also to set men free from their worst fears. Not that Christians are reckless daredevils, not that there is nothing fearful in this world, but free from the paralyzing dreads that haunt so many. A former Buddhist told this writer that all he could remember of his childhood was this: "There were eight hundred gods and I was afraid of them all." Simply to learn that there is one and only God, a God of love and power, who "has the whole world in his hands"—this comes as a great message of freedom to prisoners of despair. Men without fear of demons or of heathen gods are nevertheless afraid all the time of death, the "last enemy." Christ who himself conquered death sets men forever free from the fear of it.

To Use Caution In Buying Hay

Two drouth years in many parts of the county have made it necessary for some farmers to buy additional hay In addition to getting hay of good color and quality, two other requirements are very important first, is the hay reasonably free of weeds, and secondly, is it safe from the standpoint of too much spray material. What did the original producer use as a forage spray program? This may be difficult to determine but the milk producer is responsible to feed uncontaminated forage. Check thoroughly before buying.

To Get Farm Account Book

The new year is approaching and every farmer should be keeping an accurate set of farm records. The Penn State Farm Account Book is available at low cost and can be very useful. It is designed to correspond with the Internal Revenue Tax forms, which makes it easier to properly file the report at the end of each year Good farm records are a "must" under modern farming practices.

To Exercise Sheep Flock

Winter management of the ewe flock requires daily outside exercise Ewes that are confined will have more trouble at lambing time and will drop weaker lambs Good legume hay is also strongly recommended at all times. A mineral mixture of 5 pounds steamed bonemeal, 5 pounds of ground limestone, 4 pounds loose salt, and 1 pound of Phenothiazine should be kept before the ewes at all times. Good winter management will mean better ewe returns.

Correspondence Courses Bulletin Available

Flower gardeners looking for hints on plant growing should have The Pennsylvania State University's bulletin of correspondence courses in general agriculture and home economics These courses are presented in an easy-to-read style and are available by mail. Write to Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania.

All Officers Are Reelected By Egg Co-op

COATESVILLE — Producers Cooperative Exchange returned a full slate of officers for 1964 here Thursday during a board of directors meeting.

Reelected from the nine-man board were:

William G. Carlin, Coatesville R4, president; Mark S. Hess, Hershey, vice president, Raymond Stoner, 1051 Eden Road, secretary, and Melvin R Koltzfus, Ronks R1, treasurer.

Seated were two new directors, elected at the egg cooperative's annual meeting earlier this month at Bird-in-Hand.

They were Lester Gehman, Manheim, and Harry Metz, Belleville, succeeding Paul Coates, Coatesville R3, and Frank L. Hershey, 442 Willow Road.

Conservation District Sets Fourteen Goals

Directors of the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District set up 14 objectives for next year at the last regular meeting in the Lancaster Court House

Directors voted to attempt to get representation on highway planning boards at both the county and state levels and to continue the Conestoga Creek silt sampling project. Tours of the county for the County Commissioners, and the annual plowing contest will be continued.

The committee will enter the Goodyear conservation contest, arrange for continued television programs and put increased emphasis on Soil Stewardship

More emphasis will be placed on an expanded youth program, and the committee will seek wider distribution of its film, "Beyond Tomorrow". The role of associate directors will be reappraised and a program for them will be developed. A meeting will be held to explain the value of the county soil survey to road builders, home builders and other interested persons The committee plans increased efforts on education and public relations and will consider the advantages of District long range work program

In other business, directors approved conservation plans for the following three landowners: Clarence H Good, Narvon R2, 83 acres in East Earl Township; Elmer F. Gruber, Bainbridge R1; 127 acres in Conoy Township, and Henry H. Emenheiser, Mount Joy R1, 92 acres in East Donegal Township.

Hunting Season To Re-open

For the sixth consecutive year, Pennsylvania small game hunters will get a chance to test their mid-winter shooting skill. The 1963 extended small game season on cottontail rabbits, squirrels and ruffed grouse opens Monday, December 23 and closes Saturday, January 4. Daily shooting hours are 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. except for Christmas day, December 25 and Sunday, December 29 when no hunting is allowed.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission reminded hunters today that daily bag limits have been set at four rabbits, six squirrels and two grouse. Hunters were also reminded that they cannot exceed season bag limits of 20 rabbits, 30 squirrels and 10 grouse and must include any of these species killed during the regular small game season during November.

About Casserole Cooking

Casserole cookery has been an important part of all cultures ever since man dropped both meat and vegetables into a common cooking pot. Through the centuries cooks have changed and adapted basic "meals in a pot" recipes to their own tastes and have created many casesrole dishes

Casseroles are nutrient-rich, convenient and economical. They taste good, almost everyone likes them, and because they are nutritious help to promote good health.

Under a crusty topping there's a filling of meat or other high-protein food, usually one or more vegetables, and often cheese.

Casseroles treat the food budget kindly, for their goodness depends not on expensive ingredients, but on an imaginative selection of foods and wise choice and use of seasoning.

Casserole cookery is time saving, too. Whenever your schedule is packed with activities, having a casserole ready to pop into the oven is a time-saver Just put the filling ingredients in a pan, and the dry ingredients in a bowl Refrigerate the filling until ready to prepare the casserole, then heat and pour the hot filling into a baking dish, cover with the topping, and bake.

Save On Service Calls

To save needless service calls on your washer or dryer, you can make several "do-it-yourself" checks.

When the washer or dryer doesn t start, see if the house fuse has blown Then check the cord and prongs on the plug Using a plug-in night light, see if the outlet is working 5-10-10 into the seed bed and added another 300 pounds to the row at planting. Risser applied no manure, plowed down 300 pounds of 0-20-20, and worked in 200 pounds of 5-10-10 before planting. Population on both plots was thinned down to 18,000 stalks per acre.

Lueck said both plots had excellent stands when the crop was hand harvested on November 1. The plots on the Brubaker farm averaged nearly 25 bushels per acre more than the plots on the Risser farm.

Following are the hybrids and the average yield per acre on both plots.

Whipple Hired By Feed Firm

Paul Whipple, formerly manager of the Lancaster Production Credit Association, has been appointed manager of the Feeder Finance Department of Miller and Bushong, Inc, the feed firm of Rohrerstown.

PAUL WHIPPLE

Whipple, well known in agricultural circles in Lancaster, Lebanon, Dauphin, and surrounding counties, will head up the firm's Feeder Finance and Credit departments beginning January 1, 1964.

Prior to his nine years as manager of Production Credit, and four and a half years as manager of the Lancaster office of the Federal Land Bank Association, Whipple was in sales and service with Vandervort Mills, Laceyville, Pa. Before that he was in charge of milk processing and retailing for Fox Chase Farms, Towanda, Pa.

Whipple, a native of Bradford County, was educated in the Wyalusing Area Schools. He will continue to reside in Leola with his wife and three children.

● Agri. Teacher

1957. After teaching for five years at the rural high school between Mifflintown and Selinsgrove, he purchased a dairy farm and has operated the business for a year and a half.

He will begin his teaching duties at Manheim on January 2. He plans to move his wife and three children, Lynn, five, Lee, three, and Kim, seven months, to the Manheim area sometime in February.

The other teacher of vocational agriculture at the school, Charles Hess, was appointed in September.

This is the time when heaven touches earth

Each of us, in our vast and busy world of Christmas, has a quiet and secret cell to which he can repair, happy and willing prisoner of the Season.

To one, it is a childhood memory. To another, it is an immense and very personal conciousness of his blessings. To all, it is the thrilling realization that this is the time when heaven touches earth and man becomes most aware of its nearness.

This is the bower, the sweet retreat that tyrant cannot touch nor despot destroy—to which someday, we hope, the entire world has access.

freshments being served to all visitors

As part of Open-House observance, visitors were taken on a conducted tour of the office and acquainted with the services and objectives of this agency Seldomridge, Chairman of the local committee, pointed out that the purpose of the open-house was not only to display the new modern quarters, but also to better inform the public concerning programs administered by the agency, and their effect on the stability and prosperity of Agriculture.

The new quarters will enable the county to discharge all functions with maximum efficiency, render improved service to farmers and also eliminate parking problems for people - calling at the county office, Seldomridge said.

The County Committee consists of Fred G. Seldomridge Chairman, Elmer L Huber, Vice-Chairman, and John J Herr, Regular Member Office employees are Dorothy Neel Office Manager, Mary Catherine Byrd, Janet Schaefer, Gertrude Frey, Stella Evans, and Mary Ann Cresswell, office employees.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER, RICHARD WITMER, left, seems intent on the hot coffee which he hopes will take off some of the chill of the outdoor ribbon cutting ceremony at the new Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office this week. Joining him is Elmer Huber, committee member, while John Herr, another member of the committee appears to be contemplating the new facilities. L. F. Photo.

RELAXING OVER A CUP OF COFFEE, Fred Seldomridge, County ASC Committee chairman, left, discusses new ASC facilities with M. M. Smith, County Agent at open house this week.
